

Wayside Inn, by Richard Dadd

Acquisition of watercolour, 'A Wayside Inn' by Richard Dadd (1817-1886). The picture is in its original carved wood frame, which has an arch-top opening. The scene is of a country inn overlooking a small hill town, with a distant plain beyond. In the foreground a rider converses with the inn keeper. 125 x 215mm. Printed 1871.

Nation/region

London

Grant awarded

£24,000

Award date

27/02/1992